

Venice Tavern Hour Airing Set For Friday

Large Crowd Expected Petitions For, Against Being Circulated

A large crowd of Venice residents is expected to attend the civic committee's meeting tomorrow night to express their views on tavern closing hours.

After talking with several aldermen, the mayor said he believes most residents favor the present hours over later ones. He is expected to present a proposal at the council meeting supporting both the present and longer tavern hours.

The mayor said he has been contacted by many citizens, apathetic and hopes to see a good turnout at the meeting. The session is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the city hall conference room.

The matter of closing hours was brought up by Mayor Lee at the Aug. 3 council meeting, at which time he called upon the citizens of Venice to express their views.

Tavern operators have complained they are losing business because of the earlier closing hours. The mayor said he sees some merit in their complaints, especially because of the nearness to places with later hours.

A survey of Venice residents conducted by the Press-Record last week indicated opposition to an extension of present closing hours by a margin of about three to one. The survey was conducted by telephone calls to persons selected at random from the city directory.

Most of those contacted who were opposed said they object to the type of people brought into the city because of the later hours. One resident described them as "triff-traff."

A woman, who identified herself as a Venice resident telephoned the Press-Record to state her opposition to any extension of the hours. She said she also talked to other Mayor Lee in a letter to Mayor Lee.

The mayor said he has had some response from Venice Tavern owners who say they are not making any money on the present hours. He said lower tavern license fees may be proposed as a partial solution.

Present regulations call for taverns within the city to close by 1 a.m. during the week and 2 a.m. on Sunday. The hours were changed in May 1951 from 4 a.m. daily to 2 a.m. in unincorporated areas and most cities of the county have 1 and 2 a.m. hours, while Madison and Collinville have 1 a.m. hours.

Mayor Lee said this week that since the shorter hours have been enforced the problems of the Venice police department have been considerably reduced. "The city jail used to be full of drunks and disorderly people on Sunday morning," he said. "Now it is almost empty," he said.

In addition to tavern hours, matters expected to be taken up at the council meeting include the proposed extension of the McKinley Bridge budget to allow for painting a final adoption of the budget and action on the new tax levy.

Sewage Treatment Major Issue For City

Jaycees Told City Has Design For Economical, Two-Fold Program

The Mississippi River is "nothing but one big open cesspool," according to Alton Mayor William Beatty told Granite City Jaycees last night in an appeal for support of the city's pollution-drainage program.

Beatty and G. W. Hoelscher,

East Side Manufacturers' Association secretary and chairman of the Citizens Sewer and Drainage Committee, appeared before the club at a dinner meeting at the Rose Bowl restaurant in behalf of the $10 million bond issue proposed for construction of a sewage treatment plant and storm and sanitary sewers.

The Jaycees expect to act on the proposal at a September meeting.

"With increased population along the river, increased sewage, industrial wastes and debris, it's becoming impossible to clean our water," Beatty said.

The amount of treatment necessary to make the water usable enough to drink is ever-increasing.

It's a matter of time until the water companies will be unable to clean it up any longer," Beatty said.

City Has No Choice

"The federal and state governments are insisting that we clean up our sewage — we have no choice. If we don't implement our sewage treatment program, it will force us to," he continued.

"This program has a two-fold purpose: to clean up sewage pollution and to save the city water, drain and treat it.

It is most efficient to treat these as one problem and to solve them as one problem with one program," Beatty said.

Witnesses saw him near the top of the hill, the 27th street entrance to Wilson Park.

The ensemble returned from their tour of Mexico and immediately scheduled a public appearance in Granite City recently.

Gift to Embassy

The gift was the gift of the American Embassy.

The students, nearly all of whom will enter Granite City high school in less than three years, displayed a load of souvenirs. They were greeted by School Supt. Harold M. Kaiser, whose own son, John, was among the group. Principal Ralph Froehling was also present.

Only One Restaurant
Not Signed, Union Says

Only one of 45 Quad-Cities area restaurants with which Loca 1461 of the Cooks and Waitresses Union has been negotiating has failed to sign a new wage agreement, a union official said today.

Mrs. Helen Peters, Local 461 business representative, said two other restaurants have been given 30 day extensions on the Wednesday strike deadline because they recently changed management.

She said a committee from the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council will contact the owner of the Camel Motel restaurant on By-Pass 660, Wm. W. Mitchell, who has not signed the wage agreement. If their efforts fail, she said, the establishment will be picketed.

The agreement signed by the restaurants grants employees represented by Local 461 a five-cent hourly wage increase. Prior to the hike, cooks received $1.28 an hour and waitresses $1 an hour.

Mrs. Carrie Stein, 75,

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday in St. Louis for Mrs. Carrie H. Stein, 75, mother of Mrs. Virgil Kirksey of Granite City.

Mrs. Stein passed away at 11 p.m. Wednesday in the Lutheran Convalescent Home in St. Louis, where she had resided since last November. Prior to that time she had spent about a year in the home of her daughter here. Death was attributed to Parkinson's disease.

Born in St. Louis and a resident there most of her life, Mrs. Stein was a member of the St. Luke's Evangelical and Reformed Church, the women's guild of the church and the Order of Eastern Star.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Louis Stein. Surviving in addition to the daughter are a brother, Carl Poerter of St. Louis, and three grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Supervisors Split In Roll Call Vote On Zoning Letter

A letter from the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce supporting county zoning was read at the minutes of yesterday's board of supervisors' meeting, but a similar letter from a political organization failed to gain such recognition when a roll-call vote ended in a tie.

The local C of C letter signed by Mayor John Dohm included a request that it become part of the formal record of the meeting. Board Chairman Gus Sauer, 2925 Fortune drive, stated Miss Eulalia Hotz, county clerk, to comply with the request.

After hearing a letter in support of the zoning proposition from the Madison County Young Democratic Club, however, Haller instructed Miss Hotz to read the letter and immediately moved that this letter also be entered into the minutes, and the chairman cast a vote for it.

Twenty-one supervisors voted in favor of including the letter, while 18 voted against, voted against it in the absence of a majority." Haller declared, "The chair rules it will be placed on the record if it is not lost." Observers were of the opinion a 21-vote was significant of the board's stand on the zoning issue.

The letter, the question was signed by Daniel C. Dohm, chairman of the club. Dohm, Aug. 14, 1962, it stated that the club's executive board had voted to support the zoning county proposal.

"We believe that county zoning is a practical, progressive step," the letter reads. "It will benefit all persons and all areas of our county. We sincerely hope that the board of supervisors will, with the county zoning, a reality."

Dohm's letter informed the board of support given the zoning proposal by 30 Quad-Cities organizations, including a membership of 25,923 persons, 23,000 of them in the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council, AFL-CIO.

Miss Hotz presented two letters from Joe Keuenhoff, Rural Route One, 2002 Granite City, which she said were in support of the zoning proposal. She described them as "rather lengthy" and Haller instructed that they be placed on file without reading them.

The letter, dated July 27 and Aug. 14, Keuenhoff said he is in favor of zoning because "I would like to express my opposition in the strongest terms possible to the method employed by the Madison County Citizens Planning Committee as well as the Granite City Press Herald. In pushing zoning, they are cutting the distance down at the throat of the people of this county," he wrote in one letter.

About 120 spectators, including members of the citizens committee, were present at the meeting. None took the floor.

Four Experienced Players Will Form Nucleus Of '62 GCHS Football Squad

"Without tossing a football, it is numbers and enthusiasm," too tough for coaches," warned Lewis, whose reputation as a tough training taskmaster precedes him. "The boys in the line are against Assumption will be picked up quickly, especially in the line, showing the most progress in conditioning and basic fundamentals."

Winners of four of nine games on their schedule last year, the Warriors are 18-12-2 through graduation and into the '62, who played regularly on offense, defense, or both.

"It is obviously impossible at this time to discuss promising newcomers to the varsity," Lewis added. "However, it appears that offensive veterans like Bob and Ron Johnson, at the ends, all-sophomore Mike Reutelbach, center and Larry Nohlin at quarterback should be the nucleus of the club."

Granite City will open the season at home on Friday, Sept. 14, against Assumption. The Pioneers closed out their 20-2 record in last year's lid-lifter in East St. Louis, and the local club never recovered its pace afterwards.

The picture is not entirely gloomy one, however. Lewis feels, "We'll be a strong squad

Drainage Plan Makes Sense For

North Granite—And All Of City

We are not surprised that residents of the North Granite area are signing petitions urging city-wide support of the Oct. 2 pollution abatement-drainage election. The proposal makes a lot of sense from the standpoint of residents of North Granite and, for that matter, people in all parts of Granite City.

The North Granite has needed drainage for many years. Now wholly within the city, it deserves to be included in the current program and this can be done efficiently due to the size of the existing trunk line to the A. O. Smith Corp.

With many septic tanks and cesspools in the vicinity, the prompt elimination of storm water should bring about a considerable improvement in health and sanitation. Considerable progress of the election is needed throughout Granite City and there are many valid reasons for North Granite residents to take a leading role, as now seems to be developing.

In studying the many-faceted drainage program developed by a citizens' committee over a period of several weeks with the engineering assistance—it is evident that a "Yes" vote by the public Oct. 2 is vital to each neighborhood.

An economical yet adequate plan, it has been designed specifically to meet community needs that simply cannot be overlooked. We plan to comment in more detail on each section of Granite City as the election date nears.

150-Year Event May Bolster Support

Of Madison County Historical Society

County history will be made in the public's thoughts along about the second week of September, when formal observance of Madison county's 150th anniversary will take place. Perhaps the event will lead to increased interest on a long-term basis in activities of the County Historical Society, an organization devoted to maintaining the link with the past and to an understanding of this area's early years.

Responsible for operation of the County Museum in the courthouse at Edwardsville, the Historical Society is playing a leading role in sesquicentennial planning. It will render an important service by checking in advance the accuracy of a script to be used in the anniversary pageant as well as the correctness of the names and incidents used in all phases of the observance.

Appropriately, the museum will be kept open during extended hours each day as the sesquicentennial is being observed, enabling Quad-Cityans and other county residents to view early-1800 memorabilia which has been assembled by the society over a period of years.

Unclaimed Deposits Will Not Be Large Enough To Solve State Financial Problems

Lists to be published by the state in late August are expected to further trim an estimated $450,000 in unclaimed bank deposits scheduled to be turned over by the Illinois treasury. The figure is a tribute to the intense efforts made by financial institutions to locate depositors of idle accounts, but is little consolation to the debt-plagued state, which had expected to net as much as $150 million.

Gov. Kerner had voiced the hope that at least $15 million would be derived from the 1961 law on deposits idle over 15 years, but there has been widespread success in locating depositors, many of whom had forgotten their money entirely.

Current plans call for banks, savings and loan associations, insurance companies, corporations, utilities, courts and political bodies to turn over to the state all such funds two months after Aug. 22 and Aug. 29 newspaper listings of missing claimants in the area where they were last known to reside.

Those who furnish proof of ownership later can still get their money, from a $250,000 fund to be set up by the state. The remainder is earmarked for state employees' retirement fund, for possible transfer to the ailing general revenue fund, but it is difficult to see that the idle funds law by itself will not solve the fiscal problem resulting from excessive public aid spending.

Horizontal Bars, No Walls At New

Illinois Prison Replacing Alcatraz

National attention will be on Illinois when the "Rock" of San Francisco Bay is abandoned and replaced by the "Alcatraz of the Midwest," a new federal maximum security prison due for completion at Marion next March. Southern Illinois University, which has established a center for study of crime, delinquency and criminal correction at its Carbondale campus 15 miles west of Marion, will cooperate with the new prison in research programs.

Though replacing ancient Alcatraz, the $10 million prison will bear little if any resemblance to it and is described by Architects Hellmuth, Obata and Kassabaum as a prototype for correctional institutions of the future. However, while the contrast is as great as it is being called a "country club" by some, it is designed to match the security of any existing federal prison.

One of the most startling decisions was to omit the traditional wall. Two chain-link wire fences, 25 feet apart and topped by barbed wire, will enable prisoners to see the "outside"—rolling woods, fields and the Mississippi River. The shark-infested seas surrounding Alcatraz. Seven towers will guard the 25-acre enclosed area, and a prisoner would have to cover at least 250 yards of open area before reaching the fences, each of which will sound an alarm immediately upon being touched.

The prison will own a total of 1250 acres in the southeastern corner of the 44,000-acre Cane Creek Orchard National Fish and Wildlife Refuge. Deer, geese and ducks abound in the beautiful Illinois hills of that region. Pre-cast, pre-stressed concrete will be used in the 15 buildings enabling architectural innovations, and closed-circuit television will control key points. A message or control center will be enclosed in a bullet-proof glass, and all windows will have horizontal, bullet-resistant bars incorporated into their design. Prisoners will be able to listen to selected radio programs on headphones.

We hope the accommodations will not be so inviting that they will attract occupants through misbehavior at minimum-security prisons. The Fed-

CITY COULD HAVE KEPT DEPARTMENT ECONOMICALLY

To the Editor:

Concerning the mayor's paid letter and the reasons the city could not afford to keep the department, I would like to collect garage and cans, to say the least. I do not agree.

I have been an alderman, come next May, for eight years. During this time, I have heard the city fathers keep the tax dollar at home. And I agree with this thinking.

Then, all at once, what happens? He wants to keep the tax dollar at home, 147,500 tax dollars to a firm across the river. This was my primary reason for voting against the contract. Everything that has happened since convinces me further that I did right.

During the Sept. 18, 1961, council meeting, at the time of the dispute over whether the department should be kept, the mayor, in a written message, stated that as chief executive of the city he was responsible for all of the city's departments. If this was true, then he had the responsibility to see that the sanitation department employees performed their work properly. He should not duck his duty by placing the control of tax dollars in the hands of a private contractor.

There were complaints regarding the work habits of the city employees, which the mayor, in his defense, attributed to the conditions that existed were evident for a number of years. It was no secret. The mayor knew of these. They were called to his attention.

The answer was, not to eliminate the whole department, but through strict supervision, operation of the department in a more orderly way and more economically.

ALDERMAN EXPLAINS STAND ON GARBAGE COLLECTION

(Editor's note: Since the garbage collection issue is of widespread interest and of wide importance, the usual limit on Forum contributions was varied to publish the following.)

Reprinted from a letter written by Alderman Sam Whitmire, of Marion, concerning the collection of city garbage and the cans appeared in the Forum. I sincerely believe that what is written is accurate, not only to clarify matters for Mr. Hammond but also to set the record straight for any readers of the column who might have read the article.

er Bureau of Prisons does not expect this to happen, and believes the new institution, combined with SIU research, may lead to more effective means of achieving one of the enforced incarceration—rehabilitation.

Health Returns From Overseas Duty

John E. Heath Jr., seaman, USN, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Heath, 2235 Fourteenth street, who has been serving aboard the cruiser USS "Saint Paul" turned in to San Diego, Calif., recently after three and one-half years with the Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific.

The ship arrived in the United States from Yokohama, Japan, 100 days ago. The 500-foot, 744-ton vessel had been in the Far East longer than any other major combat ship since before World War II. This period is one of the longest ever flown. Measuring one foot for every man aboard who has served more than nine months in the United States, it was cut up and distributed to the crew upon arrival in this country. The ship will now enter the Long Beach Naval Shipyard for an overhaul and is scheduled to return to duty as a fleet flagship next spring.

Two Drivers Ticketed

Auto tickets were issued Monday afternoon to both drivers involved in a collision at Pontoon and Maryville roads. William A. McCutcheon, 26, of Marion, was driving his car on Pontoon and attempted to turn left onto Maryville. His auto and another, driven by Sharon Beckett, 18, of 1924 Grand Avenue, Marion, at the intersection, were involved in the collision. Miss Beckett was westbound on Pontoon. She was charged with having no driver's license. McCutcheon was charged with making an improper left turn.

Attempts Made To Burn Garage On Edison

Youthful vandals may be responsible for setting fire in the 2300 block of Edison Avenue. John Smith, 2306 Edison, told Granite City police Monday that twice within the week he found burned paper in his study. So far, the garage has failed to catch fire and no damage has been done. A group of unidentified boys were seen leaving the area Monday when the second attempt was made.

Sunday, however, a vacationing neighbor did not fare so well. Glen Harris of 2313 Edison sustained $200 loss when his garage burned.

have false impressions after reading the article cited.

First, I have every respect for the signers of petitions. No decision was made without the petition signed by Granite City residents on behalf of the former City Sanitation workers was placed on file. Petitions presented by the City Sanitation workers on file I was following the standard procedure for such a case.

Mr. Hammon also challenged the statement that the Council, not the public, has the authority in a case of this sort. This statement is untrue. The public has the authority to make recommendations for the common welfare in the aldermen when they are elected by the people who wish to be represented by them.

City of Granite City is the equivalent of a million dollar plus per year business. How can an alderman operate efficiently and effectively even if the authority of those persons placed in authority is challenged by the shareholders in the business? It would be a waste of the public's money to turn the city of Granite City is much the same. An election cannot be held to sample public opinion each time a decision must be made. Not only would this practice be costly, but utter chaos would result.

I have sincerely tried to represent the people of the 5th Ward to the best of my ability for nearly twenty years. I have always done what I believed to be best interest, and I am always open for suggestions and willing to discuss with them how we can serve the public better.

My vote on the issue I have received only two complaints about the recent change in refuse collection from people in my ward last week. Due to this change over a fact which does not make me happy. However, after thoroughly investigating the matter, I found that the taxpayers have changed their ways and I am sure the city will benefit.

Mr. Hammon, I have tried to change over a fact which does not make me happy. However, after thoroughly investigating the matter, I found that the taxpayers have changed their ways and I am sure the city will benefit.

GC Board Hires Seven Teachers

Approval was given for hiring seven instructors and a school nurse Tuesday evening by the Granite City school board.

In other action, four teacher resignations were accepted.

Hired were five unassigned elementary instructors, a high school home economics teacher and a high school English instructor.

They are: Helen Busse, 31.

Also, an unassigned elementary teacher with three years' experience teaching and a bachelor's degree from St. Ambrose College; Miss Jeanne Clark, 35, of Granite City, a high school English teacher with 12 years' experience and a master's degree from Webster State University; Miss Helen Henderson, Flat River, Mo., an elementary instructor with eight years' experience and a bachelor's degree from Webster State University; Miss Mary Keenan, Effingham, an elementary teacher with a bachelor's degree from Fonbonne College; Mrs. Metella McCall, 30, of Granite City, an elementary instructor with five years' experience and a bachelor's degree from Southern Illinois University; Miss Cynthia A. Oden, 23, Madison, an elementary teacher with a master's degree from Eastern Illinois University; Mrs. Jeanne R. Odom, 37, 3115 Colgate place, a senior high school home economics instructor with seven years' experience and a bachelor's degree from Eastern Kentucky College.

The administrative staff is in the process of filling the remaining positions, Supt. Harold Kaiser said.

Hired as a school nurse on a one-year temporary replacement basis was Mrs. Mary E. Nichols, RN, 36, of 2601 Dolmar avenue. Leave of absence for the 1962-63 school year was granted to Guy Jahr, Jr., a Maryville school elementary instructor, for health reasons.

Resignations, effective Aug. 15, were accepted from Mrs. Mabel Stalling, a Stalling school elementary instructor who will enter government service; Mrs. Barbara Ostrowski, a Coolidge school mathematics instructor who has completed her baccalaureate qualification; Russell Robbins, Nameoki school principal, who has accepted a teaching position; and Miss Vicki Siltan, a Webster school secretary, who will further her education.

Board members noted that resignations came later than the normal July 15 resignation deadline and questioned the advisability of release at this date. Supt. Kaiser pointed out that most of the resignations accepted positions in other school systems—all of them are entering other fields. If Instructors were released after their entered contracts with other school districts the board would be justified in refusing release unless satisfactory replacement was available, he said.

Boys Climb School Roof

Granite City police were summoned at 1 p.m. to Wilson school in Glenview subdivision on complaints that boys were on the roof. The youngsters fled before police arrived.

19,603 Chest X-Rays Reveal Six Active Cases Of TB

The 1962 chest x-ray survey, she stressed, conducted by the Madison County Tuberculosis Association revealed 633 persons of 19,603 taken in the county from April through June, with 10,969 taken at industrial plants and 8634 at public locations set up throughout the county.

The chest x-rays, small and large, are provided without cost to individuals by funds raised in the annual Christmas Seal campaign.

"An intensive follow-up program is now in process," she added. "We want to be sure that all persons with chest pathology can call on their personal physician for diagnosis and treatment without delay."

"The follow-up is the most important part of the x-ray survey," she said. "The success of the 1962 chest x-ray survey depended on this teamwork."

National Red Cross

Ending Wire Service

The American National Red Cross, ending its leasing of telegraph facilities as an economic measure, the Tri-City Chapter of the Red Cross was informed of a monthly reduction Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Ruby Overbeck, executive secretary.

The change will result in some increased costs for the local chapter, which is now utilizing regular wires to contact servicemen and their families. Mrs. Overbeck said, "An estimate of the cost of the new wires is not yet available. In July, the chapter sent 26 wires and received 21."

With the budget reduced from the regular budget submitted to the United Fund, ways of meeting necessary costs were discussed briefly. Additional information is to be obtained on proposed replacement of fiber material in the Red Cross office.

Mrs. Overbeck listed July financials of $395, including $414 in contributions, $100 in dues, $295 transportation loans, $125 loans and a $70 emergency leave loan.

Other contacts including 48 involving Granite City Army Depot personnel—there were 15 emergency leaves, four leave extensions, 40 reports to Rockport, one home conditions report, 10 health-welfare reports, four assists with government benefits, 34 other service cases and six information reports.

Miss Anna W. Gross, chapter treasurer, listed July receipts of $4732 and disbursements of $4014, incurring the balance from $574 to $1594.

9 Concerts - 25,000 persons

The ensemble performed nine concerts to live audiences totaling people.

The group performed in a half-hour television show that was seen all over Mexico

TV show and a reel that will be shown in schools throughout the country.

The reel also will be available

The reel appeared in news-many newspapers and magazines.

One of the performances was attended by the wife of Presi-

Todoroff's Impressions

Todoroff said he was impressed by the attention paid the group

by his Mexican hosts.

Besides, entertaining the wife of the president and being handled personally on TV by the head of Mexico's TV system, the ensemble received the personal attention of other Mexican dignitaries.

The three ensemble members for the tour were Mrs.

Amalia Castillo Ledón, director of education, her undersecretary,

Sánchez, an instructor at the Institute for Cultural Affairs,

according to Todoroff.

One of the most memorable things of the five trip was a

Recreational Trips

The group took many side trips for recreation. The two favorite spots of the students were the pre-Aztec pyramids about 20 miles west of the city and the silver capital of Taxco.

The trip back was uneventful except for an unexpected layover of two and a half hours in

A roast beef dinner was served following fishing and boating at the lake. About 20 club members attended, and guests were Harold R. Fischer and G. R. Clarke, a past president of the club.

Trucker Charged

A St. Louis trucker, LeRoy Scott, was arrested by Madison police at 2 p.m. yesterday at the intersection of Main and street. Charged with operating an overloaded vehicle on a restricted street, he posted a cash bond.

He said, "I managed to learn a little Spanish and bought some silver things as gifts."

Leisure Spanish To Buy Gifts

Bill McMillan, 11, was up his room at 12:30 p.m. Saturday and with the exception of the unscheduled layover in Austin, stopped off for meals and souvenirs on the way to the border.

Kendall McMillan, 11, was one of those on hand to meet the bus when it arrived. His mother and brother were on the tour.

"Grand Mom Is Back"

"I didn't know he was a Press-Record reporter. I'm just glad to get mom back."

As said, he didn't miss his brother, Charles, too, he said.

"I missed my brother, too, but not as much as I missed my mom."

James LeGrand was a somewhat more loquacious in his summary of the trip, but he did not mention the hospitality of the Mexican government and people," he said. "I came to realize that ours is not the only country in the world."

"I liked the contrast between the old and the new in Mexico and was impressed by the many modern facilities," he said.

He also enjoyed bargaining, he said, and bought "everything" - trinkets, sombreros, sarapes and other souvenirs.

Charles McMillan said he liked the trip to Taxco best.

"There were hundreds of souvenir shops where he said,

"The most impressive chess set was the Mexican chess set,

which comes in very ornate design in obsidian, bone, cypress and other materials," he said.

Other popular items included sterling silver jewelry, woven straw goods and leatherwork.

"Everybody was so friendly,"

Robert Espling, 11, one of the non-hand members along disembarked wearing a large straw sombrero and carrying a large "guirita" (Mexican) sombrero.

The sombrero, on which sound is produced by scratching on a set of carved grooves, it appeared to be made from a long dried gourd, painted in vivid colors.

His sister, 15, was the ensemble pianist.

Charles McMillan said he liked the trip to Taxco best.

"The girls were impressed by the modern buildings," he added.

Doris Lewis also liked the Taxco trip best of all the side excursions.

"Everybody was so friendly,"

James LeGrand said.

Mrs. Espling was on the tour.

12 Hurt In Area Traffic Accidents

Twelve persons were injured this week in six separate accidents in the Quad-Cities area, according to area police reports. Six were hurt in a single two-car collision late night. Police reported 11 traffic mishaps in the area.

Charges of driving the speed of a car at Nameoki road and Spring avenue and drunkenness were filed Tuesday against Martin H. Polette, 40, who was arrested at his home on Oregon street, about 4:45 p.m.

Polette was taken from police headquarters to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment of injuries, while police said were injured in the collision about 6:30 p.m. Wednesday.

They were Edwin J. Franklin, 22, of 2224 Lincoln avenue, and Vernal O. Woods, 39, of 4815 Wabash avenue. Police said the drivers suffered minor injuries.

Hurt In Collision

Mary A. Uliff, 22, of 1650 Fourth street, Madison, was injured slightly yesterday afternoon when her car collided with another vehicle in Madison. Police said she was thrown forward and bumped her face and chin.

She told authorities she turned left from Madison avenue onto Sixth street and her auto collided with the west-bound vehicle.

Admitted was Mrs. Betty

Wolster, 32, of Warden, who suffered head and knee injuries. Treated for minor injuries and released were her children, Jean, 12, Donna, 10, Gary, nine, Michelle, four, and another passenger, Cynthia Tau, 11, also of Warden.

Details of the two-car accident were not available at state police headquarters.

Mrs. Jessie Phillips, 23, of 2033 Madison avenue, was injured at 2:55 p.m. Monday when her auto struck a utility pole at Madison and 22nd streets. According to police, she was driving normally when the auto brakes failed when she attempted to stop with other vehicles. The car ran over the sidewalk and struck the pole, police said. She was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for lacerations to her right arm.

Two men were injured in a collision about 6:30 a.m. Wednesday at 21st street and Lee avenue.

They were Edwin J. Franklin, 22, of 2224 Lincoln avenue, and Vernal O. Woods, 39, of 4815 Wabash avenue. Police said the drivers were not available at state police headquarters.

Hurt In Roxana

Mrs. Martha M. Warren, 25, of 2317 East 19th street, was injured in South Roxana Wednesday afternoon. The auto she was driving was involved in a collision with one driven by Arthur J. Malone, 60, of South Roxana.

Mrs. Warren was treated at Warden Hospital for a cut laceration to her knee. A passenger, Kenneth McKee, 15, of South Roxana, was treated at Warden Hospital.

Malone was admitted with concussion, severe lacerations to the head and a possible skull fracture. He was listed as fair condition this morning.

City Democrats Favor
Mass Transportation Bill

The Granite City Democratic committee went on record Tuesday night as favoring the Urban Mass Transportation Bill and directed that letters be sent to Sen. Paul Douglas and U.S. Rep. Melvin Price informing them of the committee's attitude.

The support for the bill came following an explanation of its purpose by Thomas Kolesa, assistant manager of product development for General Steel Industries, a public utility holding company. It would be a $5,000,000 program with $100,000,000 appropriated for the first year and $200,000,000 for each of the succeeding years.

Fundamental Clothing Requirements For College Students Away From Home

The American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear observes that a complete and correct wardrobe is as essential to currently enrolled students as it was to their coonskin garbed Dads.

According to the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear, a conservatively patterned suit with natural shoulders is essential, wherever the campus is located. The liberal wardrobe suit count may be as high as four, depending on the dictates of climate and swings in temperature.

Sports jackets, too, are a fundamental must—anywhere from two to four—with a blue blazer basic for most regions of the country.

Upwards of five pairs of slacks—dark worsted flannels should be included—are called for on most campuses.

Another universal requirement—yes, even on the night-chilled campuses of the Southwest—is a toecap.

A washwear raincoat, with or without liner according to climate, is also a country-wide requirement.

Outerwear garments for the active student-sportsman range this year from lightweight poplin or gabardine jackets for golf and the like to loden or car coats for frostier outdoor action, campus wear, etc. A basic two can be expanded to six and even more, depending on the spectrum of active sports opportunities.

No campus is so informal that dress shirts aren't essential. The supply of these can safely range anywhere between six and sixteen, and the styles should include assorted oxfords and broadcloths in white, blues and stripes. But ton-down and tab collars are the season's favorites.

Half a dozen to 12 sports shirts are highly desirable—preferably none of them too loud. Advisable also is a selection of six or more neckties, including at least one black knit along with neatly patterned foulards, stripes and reps, and challis for today's dressier campus trend.

Undergarments in good supply—a minimum of six sets of T-shirts and boxers or briefs, one or two dressing robes, four or more pairs of shoes ranging from cordovans and brown Scotch grains to tennis shoes; then, too, go on a well-planned check list.

Upwards of four pairs of chinos (in favor on virtually all campuses), a range of 12 to 18 pairs of socks that include stretch nylons and wool rib types, and such essential accessories as several belts in complementing colors, handkerchiefs and other jewellry complete the big picture.

Campus tastes and customs in clothes vary from region to region, and the major preferences in the midwest colleges can be highlighted as follows.

MIDWEST

The dressier look of the vested suit has swept the campuses of the Midwest, as it has in the East, until now hardly a student is without one, the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear reports. Climatically longer, harder winters demand these suit classics be of heavier weight, as with the weightier tweeds and shetlands seen in sports jackets. For the same reason flannels are favored in the slacks that are seen in the more casual outfits.

While fall and spring days are often mild and require clothes that are appropriate to them, the —gaily-styled cotton-and-Kodel polyester combine in this pert dress. Lace trim at the square yoke and two-tone novelty sleeves add a grown-up look.

SMART SMOOTHIE—Kodel polyester and Avril rayon fibers combine to assure an ever-fresh look, smooth touch and resistance to wrinkles. For daytime wear, this dress has a wide self-belt brass trimmed, and a permanently-pleated skirt.

The accent on warmer garments makes it advisable to choose a heavier wool robe, for instance, fuller weight dress shirts (buttondown and tab collars preferred), an ample supply of warm socks and the like. Tan or olive chinos are in favor on virtually all Midwest campuses.

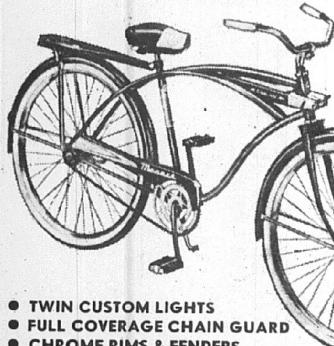

The key to the truly workable wardrobe here is balance, to provide for the wider swing of temperatures that prevails in most of the area.

Have a wardrobe of interchangeables, such as blouses, skirts, sweaters, shirts and slacks that look well together. This will make your wardrobe go further and seem larger.

THIS NEW BROAD striped Cardigan in bulky wool is winning honors on every American Campus. Smartly styled it provides warmth and looks for smart young collegiates.

35 Schools, 18,000 Pupils In Local Area Systems

Thirty-five schools and more than 18,000 students—these statistics tell the scope though not the full story of Quad-City educational institutions.

With more than 12,000 pupils in 19 Granite City public schools, nearly 3000 in six Madison public schools, nearly 2000 in six Quad-City Catholic schools and nearly 1000 in four Venice public schools, the local buildings have been "bursting at the seams" for some time due to the rapid population growth.

Citizens have responded by authorizing extensive new construction as well as many additions.

100th High School

One of the most unique aspects of local schools is the large number of high school graduating classes, due partially to the twice-a-year commencement schedule during some of the past years.

In 1902 the first class, composed of two students, completed requirements for graduation from Granite City high school. On Jan. 29 this year, 93 students of the 100th graduating class received diplomas, and an additional 317 were graduated in June, illustrating the pattern of growth.

Between these classes lies a history of expansion and change which has been characteristic not only of the high school but of the entire Granite City school system.

Frohardt First Teacher

In 1890, the Granite City area was home to only a few farm families. The residents attended a church called Kinderhook, and it became their first school. Thirty-two pupils attended, and a single teacher — L. P. Frohardt — was their educator.

Granite City was incorporated in 1896, and Emerson school was occupied the following year. It had cost $13,000 to build, replacing Kinderhook as the community's single educational structure.

When Granite City high school was organized as a separate institution in 1899, Emerson school had become inadequate to house the students. Once again, the old Kinderhook church became a classroom, Granite City high school's first home.

First Commencement

At the turn of the century, 24 students were enrolled in the high school, with a single teacher. The first graduating class was composed of Misses Jennie Wilcox and Lillie Niemann, both of Venice. They had entered high school in September 1899, and in May 1902 completed a course of instruction listed as "three year general."

The first graduates had studied composition and rhetoric, algebra, geometry, physics, English literature, English and American history, geography, botany, zoology and physiology, Greek and Roman history, Latin grammar, German grammar and a course on Caesar.

In the years to come, those in charge of the educational system were to realize that physical, emotional, artistic and creative needs also must be met before a student reaches maximum mental growth.

Diversified Curriculum

The current curriculum of Granite City secondary schools consists of 70 courses, including such fields as languages, science, business education, home economics and vocational shop training. In addition, well-planned programs in band and vocal music, art, physical education and health, speech and intramural and interscholastic sports have been added.

General philosophy of the district is "to guide the development of the whole child within the limits of his capacity, so that he may enjoy life fully and contribute his best to our democratic society in a changing world."

GORDON LANE of Schiff's Shoe Store models the latest thing in men's dress boots . . . the new Moot Boot by Madison Square. Made by a new process called Sil-O-Welt Featherweight, the boot is leather treated, a process which makes the boot scuff resistant. Plain toed, the Moot Boot comes in black or brown with the smart Cuban heel at $7.99.

SHOWN ABOVE is Larry Reader who is modeling the all time favorite for boys and young men for wintery weather. The hooded hip length parka. Zipper front, slash pockets and detachable fur lined hood make it the number one choice on any campus. This parka is one of several styles of winter wear featured at Surplus store in downtown Granite City. Surplus is headquarters for jackets and outerwear for blustery days.

By 1905, the high school enrollment had grown to 58, with three teachers. There were 823 pupils in the grade school, with 20 teachers. Shortage of classroom space was becoming acute.

McKinley School

Construction of McKinley school, an 18-room building with auditorium and gymnasium, was begun the following year. It was occupied in September 1907 as both grade and high school.

From that time on, expansion of school facilities had to come at a rapid pace to keep up with the growing enrollment. By 1910 there were 148 high school students, and 1420 in the grade school. In another five years, these figures had risen to 226 and 1959.

Twenty-two teachers were in the high school in 1920, when enrollment had climbed to 367. The grade schools, with 2782 students, had 65 teachers. In 1925, when separate grade and high school districts had been formed there were 530 secondary and 3450 elementary students.

College Shoes Have More Rugged Look

College men, keeping pace with new fashions for the campus, will be wearing "more shoe" this fall. Interpreted in smooth, grained or brushed leathers, the new "substantial" campus shoes are more rugged in appearance and construction—yet light and flexible afoot—thanks to new lightweight leathers. The two-eyelet blucher continues a favorite for dress wear, but three-, four- and five-eyelet shoes will be increasingly popular.

Adding to the substantial look are wing tips and perforation details on toes and along the sides and backs.

Moccasins, hallmarks of the college man, are correct for both dress and casual occasions. For dress wear, moccasins come in smooth and lightly grained leathers with low-riding stitching. Casual moccasins, on the other hand, often sport heavy, hand-crafted stitching and are available in glove-soft leathers, brushed, smooth and grained. Flexible, lightweight leather soles and smooth, full leather linings guarantee comfort afoot and a longer life for both styles.

On campus, the sturdy cordovan with its heavier but easy-flexing leather sole still has many friends. The anklehigh chukka, with its soft, supple leather uppers, is found in every campus wardrobe. A semiboot style—often seen with stitching set just below the collar of the shoe, is destined for campus popularity, too.

DRESS TIPS: Examine, test and replace, if necessary, the shoelaces in shoes that have not been worn in some time. It will save you annoyance when wearing the shoes.

ENTERING HER freshman year at the University of Missouri, Gay Mueller has chosen as one of her musts for the coming school year, Bobbie Brooks leaf pattern sweater in two tone slipover trimmed of 90% wool and 10% cashmere in matching tone for wear with the sweater. Bobbie Brooks is a featured fashion at Rich's Ladies' Apparel.

LARRY READER, junior at Granite City High School models the new wool Argyle cardigan type sweater featured for fall wear by the smart young men's set. Available in all sizes, the sweater is just one of the dozens available at Surplus for the first time. All styles, sizes and materials are on display for back to school wear in a rainbow of colors.

Then, the impact of war struck the community, and erection of classroom buildings came to a halt. War production brought renewed life to Granite City industry, however, and as workmen continued to pour into the area the student population kept climbing.

Five-Point Program

In 1920, five important building projects were launched. Additions were begun at the high school, which then became Central grade school, and construction of Community high school and the temporary structure for Liberty school were started. A six-room addition at Washington school and a four-room addition at Webster completed the program.

Drive Safely; Drive Safe Car, Say Experts

Obey speed limits in school zones.

Obey the instructions of Police officers and auxiliaries stationed at school crossings.

Be on the alert at all times for careless youngsters.

Stop when approaching a standing school bus that is taking on or discharging children.

In addition to rules aimed specifically at school-crossing hazards, safety officials point out that the usual safe-driving precautions are double important when school's open.

SAFE DRIVING RULES

These rules include: reduce speed and observe traffic conditions carefully at all intersections; give pedestrians and cyclists the right of way — always — even though they themselves may not be obeying the safety rules.

In an automatic transmission car, always keep your foot on the brake when standing at an intersection or crosswalk; always set the parking brake securely when leaving the car.

As important as safe-driving methods, say safety experts, is a safe car. They urge every motorist to have his car thoroughly checked before school opens, to make sure it is in good operating condition, and to make sure es-additional space provided, as well as by noting the giant steps in enrollment.

Additions, included in 1924, the auditorium; in 1928 and 1928, new wings; also in 1928 vocational training addition; and in 1942, still specially that all parts necessary for safety are in good order.

These include: brakes (shoes, bands, hydraulic systems and adjustment); headlights; horn; directional signals; steering assembly; wheel alignment; windshield wipers; tires.

another addition. High school enrollment had reached 1572 by 1940, and climbed to over 1600 during the 1942-43 school year.

Aid To War Effort

During the war years, Granite City high school became a center for programs which contributed to the war effort. Among these were war production training courses, pilots' ground training courses and Naval Air Cadet pre-flight training.

Then, in 1950, Community Unit School District No. 9 was formed, combining into a single taxing and administrative body 11 separate school districts and serving an area of 58 square miles.

Included were Atkins District 110, St. Thomas District 108, Granite City Elementary District 126U, Mitchell District 109, Stallings District 139, Central District 111, Sand Prairie District 114, Nameoki District 154, Gabaret District 125 and Granite City Community high school District 149.

In the past year, there were 11,815 students in the Granite City school system. While the nationwide school-age population has increased 47% since 1950, in the Granite City district the increase has been more than 100%. It is the largest in Madison county.

1869 Venice Public School

In Venice, the public school system dates from 1869. In that year, a four-room frame grade school building was erected on Broadway.

In 1917, Venice high school was built, and in 1938 a new grade school was added. The grade school facilities were expanded in 1954.

Lincoln school in Venice, originally a three-room frame structure built in 1890, was enlarged with the building of a new high school in 1939 and a new grade school unit in 1954. The district's enrollment is at the 900 level.

Steady Madison Growth

The history of the Madison public school system is a unique picture of steady, although not spectacular, growth. In the 1951-62 school year there were 2880 students in the system, 650 in Madison high school. The school budget which 35 years ago was approximately $100,000 exceeded $1,000,000 for the 1951-62 fiscal year.

Because Madison's growth is restricted on three sides — by the Mississippi River the city of Venice and Granite City — its student population has not increased in the explosive jumps experienced in Granite City.

Original property for the Madison schools was donated by Stephen J. Blackman in 1858. The Blackman site was near the present location of Dunbar school. Despite the gift, first classes were held in a store building on Market street in North Venice.

Replace Harris, Blair

The Harris school, which now serves only kindergarten through third grade, was the first of the six institutions which now make up the Madison system. Built in 1894, Harris had additions in 1902, 1907, 1911 and 1913. The original building has been torn down with a new building occupied in 1960.

The old four-room Harris school was in the center of Madison's original main district. Newer schools were built in the "outlying" areas as the city grew. Blair school was built in 1902, and its original building also was replaced in 1960.

Blair's first use was not as a school, but as a home for refugees from the flood of 1903. The homeless flood victims were moved into the new structure, which had not yet been used for classes, as well as into Harris school.

In 1905, the Madison student population had grown too large for a two-school system, and Dunbar school was added. A high school building was erected in 1914. Louis Baer school was built in 1922, and in 1943 a new high school was added. The old high school unit became Madison junior high school.

Madison schools were joined in a unit district in 1952. At that time, the last rural school in the Bend area closed its doors, and more than 100 Bend area students now come by bus to Madison for classes.

Original construction costs of the Madison school system totaled $259,754. Present insured value totals $2,900,000 while contents are insured for an additional quarter-million dollars.

No history of the Quad-Cities' educational system would be complete without a study of the five parochial schools — St. Mark's in Venice, St. Mary's in Madison, and St. Elizabeth's, Sacred Heart and St. Joseph's in Granite City. There are two Sacred Heart centers.

Founding Of St. Mark's

Oldest of the community's parochial schools — and one of the oldest in Madison county — is the historic St. Mark's. This venerable institution was founded in 1883 by Father Peter Kaenders a year after the parish church was completed.

Both the school and church originally stood on Abbott street, where a flood in the spring of 1883 damaged the school before it was completed. Work was able to progress on schedule, however, and the school was opened that fall. Three years later an addition was built.

After the recurrence of flood damage in 1892, both the school and church were moved to Sixth street and Broadway into a new brick building erected for the purpose. A frame residence was moved to the site to provide housing for the teachers.

Adjoining land was purchased, and the present church was erected in 1949. From that time, the old building was used exclusively for a school, until it was razed to make way for a new school building in 1957.

The school of historic St. Mark's parish is comparatively small among the community's parochial schools. In 1961-62, enrollment was 133, with Sister Mary Bernard as principal. Despite its size, however, St. Mark's is the pioneer parish of the community, and was the trunk from which other parishes grew as branches.

St. Joseph's In 1901

First of these was St. Joseph's, which was established in a combination school-church building in 1901. At the outset, 159 pupils were enrolled.

With the erection of a new church in 1940, the old building was used for classrooms only, and has since been remodeled. Enrollment in the Dominican Order institution last year was 240.

St. Mary's school in Madison was founded in 1924 by Father David Skully. At that time the parish was 12 years old. An estimated 120 pupils attended in the beginning, while enrollment last year was 320. Principal is Sister Mary Aruellea.

Classes still are taught in the structure originally built in 1912 as St. Mary's Church. While the new church completed in 1954 was a time in the present school cafe being built, services were held for teria.

Construction Of Annex

Sacred Heart school in Granite City was founded in 1925 by Father (now Monsignor) Michael Costello with four teachers and 176 students.

Enrollment last year reached 730, including students in the first year of school in an annex on St. Clair avenue. Sister Mary Aquin is principal.

Since completion of the new Sacred Heart Church in 1958, the old church building has been used as an addition to the school, and has been converted into a gymnasium.

St. Elizabeth School

Latest addition to the community's complex of Catholic schools is St. Elizabeth's, established in 1955. The school has graduated three classes of transfer students, and had an enrollment of 470 pupils in 10 rooms last year.

Currently under construction and nearing completion at the school are six new rooms. The school was built shortly after Father Lawrence J. Mattingly became pastor, moving the church to its present location from Mitchell.

St. Elizabeth's principal is Sister Mary Cecilia, Order of Divine Providence.

KELLY GRIMM is modeling a genuine Windbreaker jacket of suede leather front with soft knit sleeves from Fleishman's. It is featured at $29.95. The shirt is an Arrow "batik" favored by the young men of '62. Kelly's slacks are new Levi continentals which sell for $5.98. All from Fleishman's Classic Shop.

THE MAIL BAG: "What will remove shoe polish from socks?" Soap and water, or turpentine, will remove black shoe polish—while alcohol is best for tan polish. . . "It is sometimes almost impossible to get bad soil off the collars and cuffs of a shirt. Anything better than soap and elbow grease?" Yes, you'll usually have success if the areas are first dampened and then rubbed well with a solution of one tablespoon of salt soda per cup of water.

CAROL McDONALD is wearing a lovely, eye-appealing soft flowing chiffon bouffant dress from Salle Ann Shop. The dress, over a taffeta slip, sets the fashion pace for '62. The three-quarter sleeves and all over lace back-button jacket adds to the charm of the ensemble. This creation is a must for dress-up or party for any high school or college girl. Salle Ann Shops feature a host of lovely dresses for young misses in junior sizes 5 to 15 and some in half sizes. The dress modeled above sells for $12.

Don't Leave School, Warn Nation's Leading Citizens

According to surveys made by educators, business organizations, the federal government and the U. S. Chamber of Commerce—better-educated people earn more money, are better adjusted to the changing demands of the times, and have a better understanding of their political freedoms—than do those folks who have not completed their education.

All of these leaders advise the young student—about to quit school for employment now—to consider carefully.

Before making the decision to leave school, young people are advised to talk over their particular problems with school advisors, parents, religious and civic leaders.

What may seem to be a bright job opportunity today, may end just there. The future can not mean advancement without adequate preparation for it.

Many new skills and specialties are constantly needed in every phase of business and industry. The one who is well prepared for the many opportunities that will present themselves in the times ahead will also be better prepared to become a leader in the community, better-equipped to enjoy leisure and culture, and can make important contributions to our nation's future.

"DON'T QUIT SCHOOL TOO SOON", this is sound advice for young people.

STUDENT SPORT COATS for Fall, 1962, states the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear, are (in terms of popularity): Colors—(1) Olive tones (2) Blue tones (3) Black (4) Charcoal gray (5) Navy blue (6) Medium gray and (7) Brown tones . . . Patterns—(1) Plaids (2) Solids (3) Checks (4) Herringbones and (5) Stripes . . . Models—(1) 3-button "Ivy" (2) Double-breasted and (3) Others.

CARE OF CLOTHES: If you get caught in the rain, see that your suit is thoroughly dry before you have it pressed. According to the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear, this will keep any wrinkles from being pressed into the garment . . . Shoe trees are not only used to keep a shoe in shape. Moisture—from weather, perspiration or polish—shrinks shoes. Trees will prevent this.

Composition Writing Is Valuable Scholastic Aid

According to many educators one of the most neglected areas in many modern-day school curricula is that of the familiar 'composition writing.'

Instruction in written composition has long been considered an important tool in helping students express themselves and encouraging clear thinking.

In studies made at various campuses round the country, it was discovered that a large percentage of college students were not adequately prepared by earlier studies to present their thoughts clearly and intelligently in writing.

What then has happened to composition and theme writing in the modern school?

The heavy work and student load in recent years has forced many English teachers to bypass theme assignments for lack of time to thoroughly read and grade papers.

Many schools have been forced to assign teachers to instruct English classes even though they hold their majors in other fields.

Students in colleges and universities enrolled in education majors are just not receiving adequate training in grammar or composition. The teacher is forced then to work from drills and other simplified exercises.

CARE OF CLOTHES: When brushing a suit before storing it away, brush out lint and dirt inside the cuffs of the trousers, turn up the collar and brush the underside — even under the inside open seams.

CYNTHIA HARRIS styles the smartly tailored full length coat of finest wool and nylon blend. Beautifully lined, the coat features a 2 way collar (can be worn with or without fur) and comes in green, beige or turquoise, in sizes 7 to 12. The coat worn by Cynthia comes from Carp's Department store. Other coats in both short and long styles priced from $3.99 to $24.99 are among the many back-to-school items now on display at Carp's Children's and Misses' Departments.

JENNIFER RANFT is modeling a 2 piece brown and rust MacShore Classic cotton ensemble from Peer's Smart Shop. The round collar, cloth covered buttons and bracelet length sleeves plus the pleated skirt make this a highlight for any teen wardrobe this fall. The pleated skirt is complete with green leather contour belt. The ensemble is $10.98. Jennifer has also selected plain, needle-toe, glove leather flats ($4.99) to finish off her party-going dress.

Saving for College Should Start Early

When school bells ring announcing a new term of school and young children start off to their classes—that's when their parents should take inventory of their plans for their offspring's future education.

Will the children go to college and can parents provide for further education?

Tuition and living costs at schools are rising constantly. In order for children from families of average means to plan for college, the financial foundation for college education must be laid soundly and early.

There are various methods for establishing funds for college education.

A life insurance plan, at moderate monthly costs, can be one method. Planned savings in a bank or savings and loan association are also practical plans.

Endowment policies planned on the basis of 10 or 15 years, (according to the age of the youngster when started), is a popular insurance-savings plan with many parents.

Regular purchases of U. S.

DONNA WILLARED, GCHS senior, is modeling a delightfully gay and colorful green and brown trimmed, white bodiced sweater of 90% wool and 10% mohair. Coupled with the Leaf Green all wool, stitched down, box-pleated skirt, the combination becomes a "first" for back to school wardrobes. The ensemble (and others equally fashionable) are to be found at Maryland Mart on Pontiac road.

MARGARET ANNE HARLAN is modeling the new Helman Style Shop selection for smart teens for back to school. Margaret Anne, known best to her friends as "Maggie," says there is still nothing newer than wool for back to school fashions. Everyone, but everyone, is majoring in plaids. Mad plaids, glad plaids . . . all plaids that are woolly rich in texture. Margaret Anne's plaid ensemble is by Margaret of Country Set. See it soon at Helman's Style Shop.

Savings bonds is another plan for accruing funds for college.

Introduced several years ago, and gaining in popularity are College Savings Clubs that function the way Christmas and Vacation Savings clubs do . . . regular deposits for a specific goal.

It's possible, of course, to "just save" for a child's future education, but the average family finds that they save most successfully, when they have a formal, planned basis.

In any savings plan for a child's future education, it's always wise to make the youngster a "partner" in the savings program. As the child gets older and begins to earn money on his own for odd jobs and chores, he should be encouraged to deposit some of his earnings to the "general fund."

This will give the child an important sense of participation and aid to his incentive.

The younger the children are when savings funds are started, the less wear and tear on the family budget over the years ahead.

Discuss your plans with an officer at your bank or with a reliable insurance agent; they are excellent advisors to help with the right plan for you.

STUDENTS' CLOTHING: According to the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear, here are the trends for Fall, '62—Suit colors (in terms of popularity)—(1) Black (2) Olive tones (3) Charcoal gray (4) Navy—(5) Blue tones (6) Medium Gray and (7) Brown tones . . . Patterns—(1) Solids (2) Herringbones (3)

SCOTT TAFF is wearing a jacket made of Syntilon styled by Campus. It is an expanded vinyl which can be machine washed and requires no pressing (mothers, please note). The jacket has a quilted lining and zip-off hood. Scott's pants are by Levi Strauss, his shirt is of fine cotton by Tom Sawyer. All can be found at Schermer's Men's and Boys' Shop . . . all are featured during back-to-school time.

Plaids (4) Stripes and (5) Checks . . . Models (1) 3-button "Ivy" (2) 3-button vested (3) Double-breasted and (4) others.

FIRST TO PEER'S . . .

THEN BACK-TO- SCHOOL

"Mix and Match" is the perfect answer for back to school ensembles. At Peer's you've a world of colorful style in mix and match sweaters and skirts. New colors, new fabrics and, of course, new styles for '62.

Ivy Fashions Continue to Lead League

One all-student league continues to lead the parade on every campus in every part of the country—and that's the "good old" Ivy League!

Yes, the Ivy-League look in clothing is now a permanent perennial part of contemporary college life. For the male student body will definitely be garbed, top to toe, in classic, natural-looking attire.

High school campus or college, undergrads are convinced of the satorial merits of the shirts, sweaters and neckwear available to them this semester.

Since the average college student spends about $200 a year on his wardrobe (a total market of about 10 million dollars), he must focus much of his fashion attention on these accessories.

Leading manufacturers of youth's and men's wear have created complete Ivy collections to suit the specific needs of the campus crowd. In sport shirts there are fresh interpretations, paisleys, stripes, checks, foulards and herringbones in easy-care, fresh looking cottons, blends and miracle fibers.

ODD ITEM. People—Actor Walter Slezak gains or loses weight so frequently, to fit with stage or movie roles he's playing, that he has complete wardrobes for his top and bottom weights . . . Packing Tip — Safest place to carry jewelry in luggage is to wrap it in cotton or tissue paper and stuff into shoes . . . Growth Note — The average American foot size has increased by 1 1/2 sizes since the beginning of the century . . . Headline — Your hair grows up to 3/4 of an inch every month—and a bit more than that in hot weather . . . Tit-For-Tat — Paris haberdasher is featuring a button-down shirt called "le col Americaine."

AIR OR FOUL WEATHER, this handsome season-spanning coat resists wrinkles, holds its shape and dries quickly. A zip-in acrylic warm pile lining, its new length, raglan sleeves and hacking pockets makes it top-of-the-class fashion for school.

RAINS AND STAINS just roll off this handsome reversible, zip-front jacket. It's protected by "Scotchgard," the invisible fabric finish that is impervious to rain, oily stains, spilled milk or what-have-you!

FOR SCHERMER'S Men's and Boys' Store, Larry Deutchmann is wearing a tri-tone brushed vinyl suede jacket with quilted lining for light weight and comfort. Larry's casual pants are continental by Levi Strauss, trim and tapered, they are washable, of course. Many other fashionable back-to-school items are now featured at Schermer's.

FINE IDEA: Even with the diversity of today's raincoats, there are still many that look alike—and you might take the wrong coat when a number of them hang in a restaurant. You'll take less chance of losing your own, if you button the buttons when hanging it. If anyone else picks it up, he should realize the buttoned one isn't his!

Emphasis On Education Continues As Major Force In American Heritage

School bells will soon be calling an estimated 50-million students back to school. Over a million youngsters will be enrolling into classes for the first time, and the balance of this number will go to primary, intermediate and high school classes around the nation.

Again school reopening focuses attention on increased enrollments, shortage of properly trained faculty and lack of proper school housing.

Although these problems have been rectified in many communities, others are still facing them.

Since our nation's beginnings education has been an important facet of the American way of life.

The foundations of the modern American educational system were laid by the Calvinist Puritans of New England. In 1642 the legislature of the Massachusetts Bay Colony, faithful to the Protestant principle that everyone should be able to read the Bible, passed a law requiring all parents, in towns within its jurisdiction, to give their children an elementary education.

And so throughout our early history, more and more schools were established by local law. As the frontiers moved westward, settlers created their own schools for their children.

Although early schools were set up by church groups, which also controlled them—by the end of the American Revolution these schools were made independent of the churches. By the 19th century, a system of decentralized control, compulsory, popular education was set up.

Several attempts to establish a national system of education over the years were unsuccessful since the decentralized control of schools was well-established throughout the country.

When the Tenth Amendment to the U. S. Constitution was adopted giving the individual States all powers not reserved by the Federal Government, the foundation was laid to establish State-controlled school systems.

In turn, the State systems evolved into units of State, county and later, city school systems.

The free public school system as we know it now, actually evolved in the twentieth century.

In most states up to the Civil War and for several decades thereafter: parents paid for their children's schooling. Children of paupers were given free education, but wholly on a charity basis.

This concept too was changed by the end of the nineteenth century when States required local administrations to tax themselves for the full support of public schools and all children within the school area.

The system we know now came into being in the twentieth century. A far cry from its early days of the Colonies, support for our free public school systems come from local property taxes (two thirds) with the balance being made up of monies contributed by the State (from taxes) from permanent State school funds and some Federal aid.

As enrollments continue to grow in all types of schools round the country, the problem facing school systems is not all economic.

Never in the history of the nation has there been so much awareness of the importance of learning, not only for the individual but also with relation to the immediate future of our civilization.

Today the curriculum of schools faces scrutiny and inventory as science, education, humanities, languages as new frontiers opened up by the space age are creating far greater demands for knowledge and skill than ever before.

The average citizen has found that there are many channels open for intelligent discussion and activities concerning the betterment of the school systems and their curricula.

Children as well as adults are imbued with this revitalization of serious interest in education. A growing pride in scholastic standing appears to be developing even among the children in elementary schools.

GEORGE MOORE JR. is modeling one of Fleishman's new Jantzen cardigan argyles in a shag blend of 75% wool and 25% mohair. Soft and flattering for the young man, it is featured at $17.95. George's shirt, also from Fleishman's, is the button down Oxford by Block's featured in Fleishman's Classic Shop at $3.95.

FOR WINTERY weather—and walks between classes—Gay Mueller models a black fox collared sport coat of 100% wool. Double breasted for comfort and style, the coat is lined with 100% acrylic lining. It is becoming a college favorite in either black with black collar or red with black collar. These "musts" for fall fashions are found at Rich's Ladies' Apparel in downtown Granite City.

ORBITING INTO HIGH FASHION is this smart, deep pile jacket for high school and college men. An outer pile of solution-dyed Acrylic gives a rich, luxurious look to this hip-length, zip-front jacket. Knit Acrylic crew collar and wrists help keep winds away.

MICHAEL HENDERSON, of 1833 Bremen, is wearing a semi-bulky V-neck orlon sweater by Campus at $3.98. The white, red and grey stripes match with the slate grey "Grizzly Gab" cotton ivy pants by Levi at $4.98. These fashions for young men are found at Glik's, Madison and Bellmore Village.

Adult Classes Beckon Big Enrollments

Formal educational opportunities for adults have been provided in the U. S. since the middle of the 18th century.

From citizenship classes for the foreign-born to courses in vocational training, adult education courses are offered in everything from ART to ZOOLOGY.

As many as 50 million adults enroll themselves in adult-education courses in the public school systems around the nation.

Luminous Ceilings Boost Light Supply in Classrooms

To millions of American school kids making ready to renew their battles with classroom instructors, the cry of "Back-to-School" may not be the happiest sound heard right now. But to the high school students attending Aviation High School in Redondo Beach, California, there are "bright notes" ahead.

In accord with instructions "to stay ahead of the times" issued by A. L. Young, assistant superintendent of the South Bay Union High School District, officials at Aviation High School had full length luminous ceilings by Filon Corporation, manufacturers of translucent fiberglass reinforced plastic panels, installed in the home economics classrooms.

(In a luminous ceiling the diffusing panels take the light from concentrated sources and trap-form it into diffused illumination. The overall effect is one of surrounding light rather than beams or "spotlights" and relaxes the strain on human vision, particularly the eyes of young people doing school work.)

Aviation High School's initial installation called for more than 4,000 square feet of 4-ounce snow white flat panels. The job consisted of a thousand 2 x 2 foot panels set in rolled aluminum full frames featuring light weight without sacrificing necessary rigidity. All panels are quickly and easily removed for cleaning and are virtually "student proof."

The latter is important to cost-conscious school officials who remember early attempts at installing luminous ceilings using PVC (polyvinyl chloride) material and the resulting dissatisfaction they experienced.

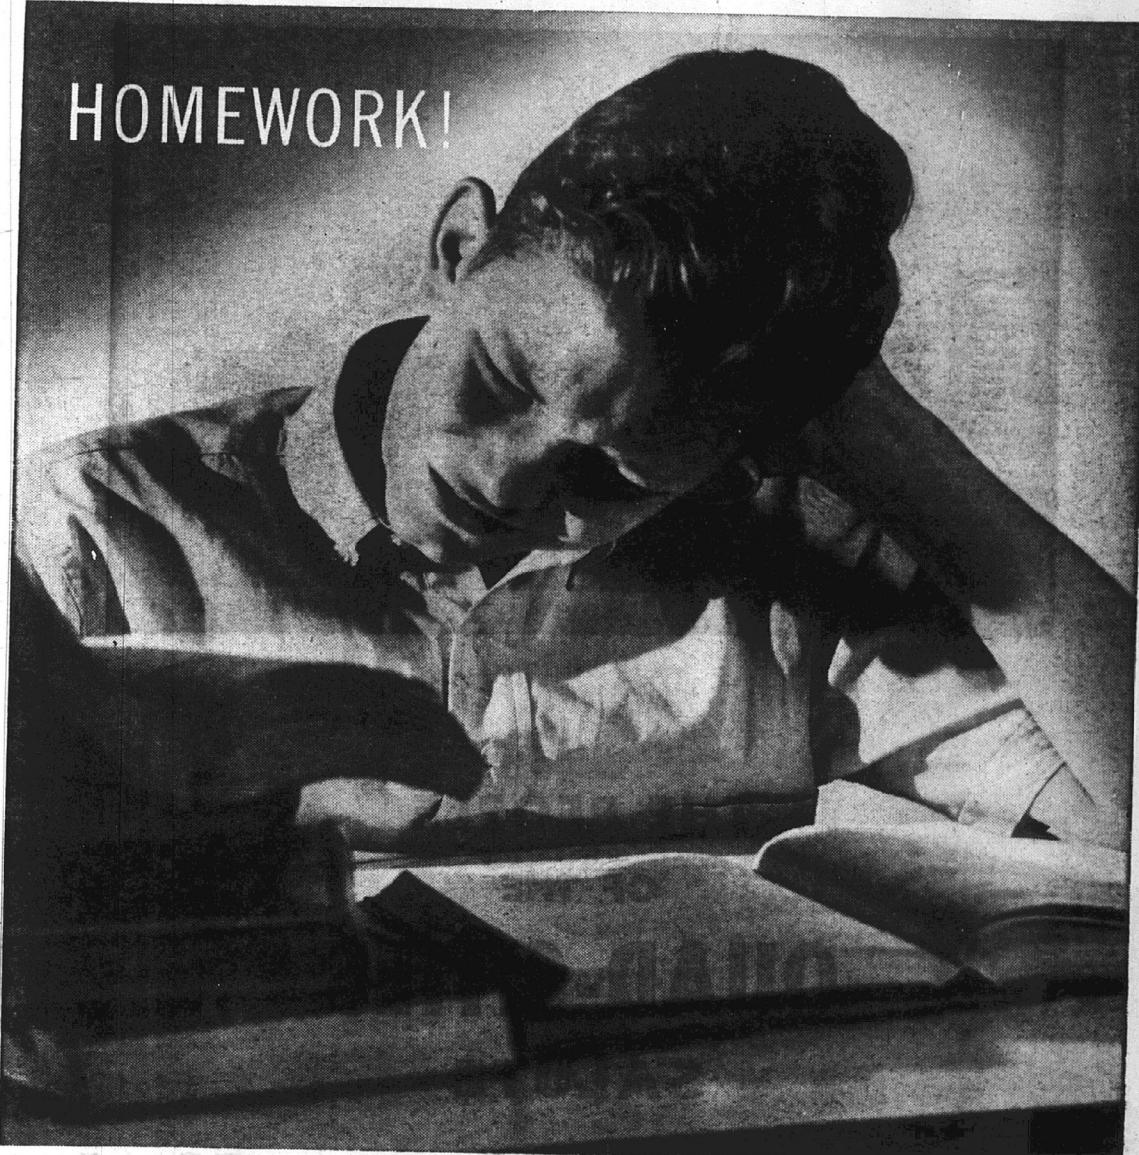

PVC was subject to mortal wounding from the inevitable missiles hurled by frisky students. The early substitute also was very difficult, if not impossible to clean, sagged and split as time went by, and was generally unsuitable as a luminous ceiling material.

Today's translucent fiberglass reinforced plastic panels are a far cry from those early attempts.

BACK TO SCHOOL

For educators and parents the ringing of school bells will be an anti-climax to the weeks of preparation. New clothes, new school supplies, old and new school buildings as scrubbed and polished as the faces of children on the first day of classes—these are ready now!

Better light...better grades

If your child sometimes resists "homework," that's not necessarily the fault of the child, or the book, or the school.

Maybe what is needed is one of the new "better light, better sight" study lamps. They provide bright but scientifically glare-free illumination that does wonders in helping young minds finish their studies before young eyes get tired.

Educators agree—better light and study conditions mean better grades. Stop in and see a complete selection of new student lamps at our office. Only 95¢ down for one or a pair.

A HIDDEN ASSET in this smart coed coat is its luxurious pile fabric of 100% Eastman Verel that provides cuddly warmth without weight. Double-breasted flap patch pocketed — the cotton gabardine coat is fully dry-cleanable — inside and out.

AT THE HEAD OF THE CLASS are pretty prints in easy-care Springmaid cottons. Here a collarless shirtwaist with a becoming full skirt spells high fashion for little ones.

GAY COLORS FOR CAMPUS look rich and dramatic in Eastman Kodel and Topel wash and wear broadcloth. The dress, with diamond-V neckline, short sleeves, wide patent belt and whirly skirt will resist wrinkles and stay neatly-fresh.

SEW-LOVELY SHIRTWAIST done to perfection in pretty plaid. Button-down dress front, roll-up sleeves and gathered skirt are all the details Junior Petites love.

HERE'S DOUBLE INDEMNITY against any weather. A reversible coat in cotton poplin flips over to sumptuous Eastman Verel modacrylic pile with emphasis on comfort and high style. Non-bulky, amazingly soft to the touch, its rich shawl collar, rounded hemline and other details make the grade with gals in the, fashion-know.

CLOTHES BUDGET STRETCHERS for the young set are versatile raincoats like these in wash and wear dacron and cotton. Simply, but elegantly styled, these coats go to school or date with equal aplomb. The young man's coat has a zip-in lining for all-season wear.

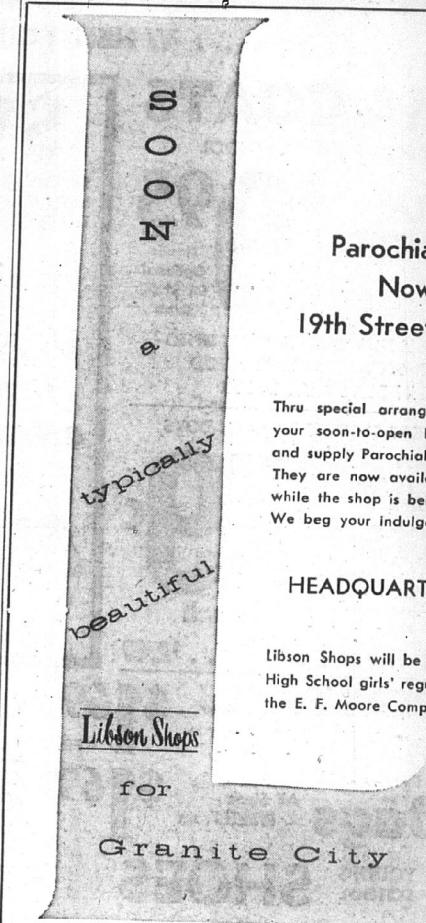

FOR SCHOOL OR PLAY — She'll surely choose gay red shoes in fine snakeskin leather. These two-strap oxfords are styled for fun—hard wear and comfort.

JUDY TRTAN of 1633 Mitchell has chosen a matching skirt and sweater for back-to-school wear. The $3.98 pleated skirt is 100% wool and has a wide elastic waist band for perfect fit. The blue plaid skirt matches the $3.98 orlon sweater by Newport. False pockets on each side of the sweater add fashion accent. Glik's, Madison and Bellemore feature both items.

Plan your wardrobe: Note the occasions in your life that influence your clothes selection, such as school, church, sports and dates. Determine how many outfits you need for each occasion.
